Why is the sky blue?
because the sun is a bright light

and light is made up of all the colors

Our atmosphere is made up of tiny Nitrogen and Oxygen atoms.
O N

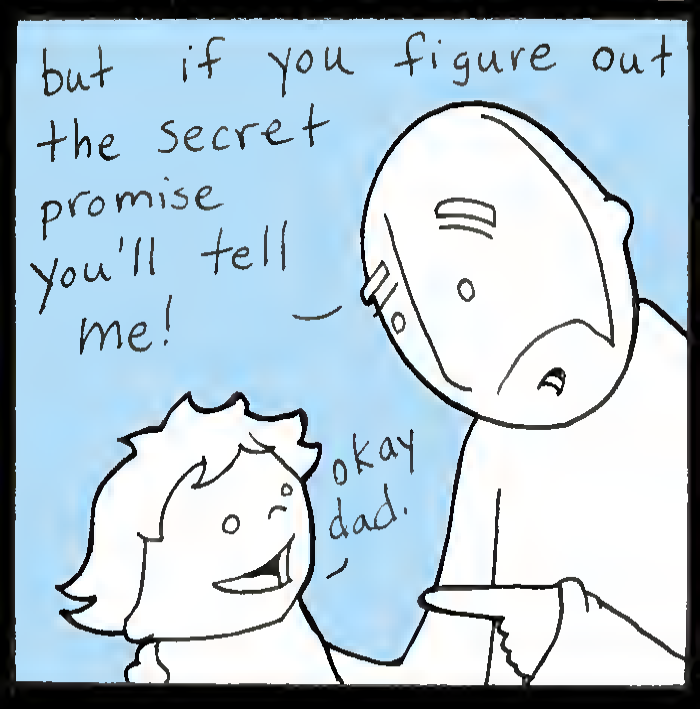
When sunlight passes through those atoms the blue light is scattered.
N
O

which is why we see blue
huh?
Dad?

Oh! I'm sorry bud. I don't have a clue.



but if you figure out the secret promise you'll tell me!
okay dad.
